This is the shoe that can stand the beating of the war path without getting batty.

It's our own special—the Berry Shoe at $3.80, $4, or $5. They're out of the class of the usual popular—priced shoes.

Come and see.

On the cowcatcher of the "airship" was a man dressed to represent the former President in "Rough Rider" costume, with field glasses and elaborate hunting outfit, while elsewhere on the craft were bestowed a number of Ethiopian press agents and nump followers in jungle attire. This machine took first prize in its class.

HONORS FOR WRIGHTS

Gold Medal Is Conferred on the Noted American Aeronaut.

LONDON, May 3.—There was a demonstration of enthusiasm, remarkable in its character at the Institution of Civil Engineers to-night, when the Aeronautical Society of Great Britain conferred on the Wilbur and Orville Wright, the aeronauts, of Dayton, O., its first gold medal. Those who had gathered at the institution to witness the presentation cheered and applauded repeatedly while the Wright brothers blushing bore their honors through an hour of the warmest eulogies.

Sir Hiram Maxim, Lieutenant-General Baden-Powell, Captain S. G. Cody, an American, who is struggling, but thus far unsuccessfully, to perfect his own aeroplane for the British army, and a large number of scientists and women were present.

The Wrights were not likely to conclude arrangements with the inventors until their aeroplane has been given a trial in England in the presence of experts. Engagements in the United States and Germany, however, have been made by the Wrights, who are personally for some months, but they have made arrangements with a builder here for the construction of machines, and have secured patents, which will be protected, and they expect to sell privately, even if the government does not purchase.

TELLS OF TRAP

Dr. Boxton Was Star Witness in the Calhoun Case Yesterday.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Chas. Boxton, a former member of the Schmitz Board of Supervisors, was the star witness at today's session of the United States District Court in the case of the United States vs. Boxton, charged with attempted bribery of a city officer. Boxton, who was trapped by agents of the district attorney's office, and whose confession precipitated the original exposure of the Schmitz administration, related the full story of the occurrence at the home of G. M. Roy, a skating rink promoter, in 1907, when Boxton, according to the witness, W. J. Burns described every incident of his visit to Roy's house and advised him to confess. Boxton said he went to Roy, who confirmed the declaration that he had been trapped, declaring it was the work of two of Abraham Ruef's friends, who had turned against their former adviser.

John E. Fury, the tenth member of the former board called as a witness, was examined by both sides.

RIGHTS FUNERALS

Occur in One Village as the Result of Last Week's Storm.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., May 3.—A special to the Advertiser from Giles county, Tenn., says:

Contemplated in its far-reaching effect, the Tag Day of May 3 will be one of the most remembered days in the history of Richmond, for there was never a day in which all the people were so closely brought together as on this day. In which all the people were so closely brought together as on this day. In which all the people were so closely brought together as on this day.

There was no distinction as to class, color or creed. All the work was undertaken by women, and their appeal was not unheeded. Dr. Buchanan, superintendent of the Associated Charities, was one of the most decorated men in the whole city and one of the happiest. People who rarely come to the city streets, yesterday in automobiles and carriages, were decorated in the red and white tags.

Men who never wear even a boutonniere were a tag, some of them even half a dozen, and each seemed proud to be numbered among the decorated with the insignia of charity.

Greatest Day of Its Kind.

COLORED ARTISTS DELIGHT AUDIENCE

"Creation" Is Well Rendered by Tuesday Club—Many White People Present.

For the first time in the history of the colored Tuesday Club, that organization, the purpose of which are the advancement of the musical tastes of the negro race in this community, last night presented "The Creation," with probably the heaviest program heard here. Each of the eight soloists shared in the appreciation shown by an audience which filled True Reformers' Hall, in North Second Street.

Two hundred voices comprised a well balanced and well trained chorus, which was conducted by Harper S. Fortune. Never before in the history of the club, South, and only once before in the history of the race, has there been such an elaborate musical production launched by a colored organization. The soloists showed remarkable talent, and the excellence of the special numbers is especially to be noted.

Solo Belle Henderson, "The Black Melba"; William B. Smith, Jr., basso; T. M. Crump, tenor, and Cora B. Harris, alto, were frequently urged by the audience to sing again. The program was sung to the accompaniment of three pianos and a string band. The productions are given at large expense, to which the club is not indebted.

Nearly one-fourth of those present were white people, many of whom stopped on their way out to express their appreciation of the high class of the entertainment. In many instances the applause of the white people was more voluminous than from other sections of the house.

Two heavy cantatas will be given. "Daniel" will be the offering of the club, and "The Creation" will be rendered. Roslyn Carmella Groves, prima donna, of Atlanta, will sing selections from grand opera at the performance to-morrow night.

MAY SECURE CONTRACT

Fireman Kelly's Resignation Accepted by Fire Commissioners.

At a meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners held last night, the resignation of William Kelly, Jr., a fireman of grade C, Truck Company No. 3, was accepted and made effective as from April 21 at 3 A. M. Kelly had presented his resignation, and while waiting for its acceptance bid on some ditching for the Water Department and secured the contract. It was later held up on the ground that such a contract with a city employee was void under State law.

The following substitutes were appointed on probation: George A. Frohburger, to Engine Company No. 4; John W. Kelly, to Engine Company No. 3, and W. D. Gentry, to Engine Company No. 9.

R. A. Gentry, having served his probation, was placed on the eligible list of substitutes.

The board ordered that street fire alarm stations be placed at the corner of Third and Main Streets and at the north end of Seventeenth Street, at Hospital Street.

FAILED TO FIND BODY

Reward Offered for Recovery of Remains of Edmund W. Allen, Drowned Sunday.

Searchers abandoned their task of dragging James River for the body of Edmund W. Allen, who was drowned Sunday last night after they had worked since early morning. Members of the yachting party, who were engaged to search for the body, fell overboard, were among those who spent the day on the stream. It is believed that the body washed away after it sank, and that it now probably some distance from the spot.

In the excitement following the tragedy many men became careless in handling the body, and it was feared that it might be lost. A reward of $25 for the recovery of the body, and this will probably be supplemented by subscriptions among his former friends.

The accident is supposed to have occurred several miles below the city, and among the searchers were many fishermen. Several searchers spent last night in huts on the banks in order to provide for any recovery of the body. The search will be resumed this morning, when more improved facilities for dragging the river will be employed.
